THE RAYMOND LIONS

What Do You Think About Gas?

The Raymond Lions Club held a very special meeting on Monday night at the Opera House Club rooms. The dinner began at 6:30 with some distinguished guests present. Our own Mayor and the Town Council along with Mr. Jones were honored guests. Every member of the Council were present except Frank Taylor who is on an extended business trip to Idaho.

Mayor Tanner of Magrath was the speaker for the evening. He brought Mrs. Bert Dow and her daughter Nadine, to cheer our dull environment. The Dow family have brought many musical programs to Raymond, especially their dance band. Nadine is one of the best and played two lovely numbers on her saxophone. They were not as bashful as some of our entertainers and stayed with us for dinner and the entire meeting—much to the pleasure of the Lions—Cal Hill especially.

Mayor Tanner was invited to discuss the prospects of getting gas piped into our thriving communities. He has done much of the groundwork in paving the way for this very convenient utility. He visits the Gas Company in Calgary regularly and always receives a sympathetic hearing. Mr. Tanner asks for a united effort of all our people to support his claims and petitions. The officials of the Gas Company have conducted several surveys of Magrath and Raymond.

Difficulty during the War in securing materials prevented immediate installation. However, we are not going to get this important utility by a few appealing for favors or playing on a sense of duty of the Gas Company. It is a private enterprise—they are in business and we, the public, have not entirely convinced the Gas Company officials that we are really in favor of converting to gas. The Canadian Sugar Factories have not seen fit, so far, to convert to gas—that would be a great boost to our cause. There is no use in demanding that the Mayor, or some other official tell the Gas Co. to bring us gas. The Company must sell large quantities of gas—when we convince them we will use it in sufficient quantities, they will bring it to us.

The democracies of the world, including Raymond have two weak spots—ignorance is the first and the second is a great willingness to "let George do it". The common citizen feels himself too small to matter. What can you do about gas? Let us kill these two weak sisters in our system. First get the facts. Get the figures in your own home and business fuel requirements. If you are convinced that gas is more economical than your present system, then push your share in the campaign to get it. Make your wants known. Finding fault with the Mayor or Sugar Company will not get us gas. If you want gas, say so where it will do some good. If you are convinced that gas is not for you—say it loud and long.

New war restriction threats are imminent. If we are going to do anything, we had better do it now. Get behind your Town Council, the Lions Club, your own Club, or organize a Citizens League and get on the ball. We will get gas when and if the Gas Company are convinced that the people are desirous and anxious to burn huge supplies of natural gas. Say it loud and say it now!

The Jr. M Men and Jr. Gleaners of the Third Ward met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Graham Sunday evening for a very enjoyable Fireside. President and Mrs. J. H. Walker were guest speakers at this Fireside, and following their talks a delicious lunch was served.

Leo Jessop Loses Fight For Life

Raymond learned with a sad heart early Monday morning of the passing in the Municipal hospital of Leo, 14 year old son of Margaret and the late Jessie Jessop.

For 21 days, Leo had put up a valiant fight for life after having been accidentally shot through the stomach by a mushroom bullet from a .22 rifle in the hands of a chum while the two boys were out shooting rabbits.

All that medical science could do was done for Leo. The first day, supplies of plasma were rushed to Raymond from Calgary after the Lethbridge supply had been used while the young man was bleeding from the new wound. Doctors and special nurses were in attendance at all times.

Following the first operation on the day of the accident, hopes were held out for a recovery for the young lad, but the complications that set in were fatal.

Leo, ever a popular lad at work or at play will be missed by a host of friends both on the school grounds and by the older people of the town.

Leo came to Raymond as a young child when the family moved here from the Cardston district where they were old timers. His schooling has all been taken here. He was a member of the boxing class and known for his sporting ways among the lads with whom he sparred, as well as his instructors.

Following the death of his father four years ago, the young lad took responsibility much beyond his years showing his ability to meet life's problems.

Leo will be missed by many friends but those who miss him most will be his mother Margaret, his three sisters, Joan, Bonnie, Jessalyn and brother Dennis.

Funeral services were conducted in the Second Ward Chapel of the L.D.S. Church with the Rev. Ward officiating. Music was provided by the 2nd Ward choir with Mrs. L. J. Hawkin conducting and Mrs. Delbert Oler at the organ. Special prayers were given by Mrs. DeVoe Matkin and Mr. and Mrs. James Harker.

The first speaker was Leo's school teacher, Bishop J. O. Hicken who said, "God called and Leo, ever an obedient lad, answered the call". Bishop Hicken stressed the need of mortals to be

Jacks Sink Sunburst

Last night, Wednesday January 10, the Raymond Union Jacks scored an impressive victory over the Sunburst quintet. The first few minutes of the game saw Sunburst playing good basketball, enabling them to keep even with the Jacks, but before half time they faltered and the Raymond crew forged ahead to wind-up the first half with a score of 46 to 23.

In the second half the fast moving Jacks played their usual level headed ball game and were never seriously threatened during the remainder of the game. Art Zeihn led the Jacks to victory with 14 points. The rest of the boys followed close behind with 12 or 13 points apiece.

West carried the punch for Sunburst scoring 19 points with Doggett close behind with 17 points. The final score was 90 to 47.

Jacks: R. Hicken 10; R. Mitchell 12; A. Nalder 12; L. West 13; A. Zeihn 14; C. J. McLean 12; D. Atwood 11; L. Rolfsen 4. Total 90.
Sunburst: West 19; Lund 5; Doggett 17; Nickels; Carbononi 2; Hudson 4. Total 47.

"To All Parents"

"I lend you for a little time, a child of mine," He said, "For you to love for while he lives and mourn for when he's dead. It may be six or seven years or twenty-two or three. But will you, till I call on him, take care of him for me? He'll bring his charms to gladden you and should his stay be brief You'll have his lovely memories as solace for his grief. I cannot promise you he will stay, since all from earth return. But there are lessons taught down there, I want this child to learn. I've looked the wide world over, in my search for teachers true. And from the throngs that crowd life's lanes, I have selected You. Now will you give him all your love, nor think the labor vain. Nor hate me when I come to call to take him back again?" I fancied that I heard them say, "Dear Lord, Thy will be done For all the joy thy child shall bring, the risk of grief we'll run. We'll shelter him with tenderness, we'll love him while we may We'll teach him faith and tolerance and pray you let him stay. But should the angels call for him much sooner than we planned We'll brave the bitter grief that comes and try to understand."

Engagement

Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas L. Paxman announce the engagement of their eldest daughter LaVaun (Bonnie) to Charles D. Romeril, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Romeril.

The marriage will take place January 25th in the Cardston Temple.

To Leo Jessop

You left us Leo!

There are tears in our voices as we say it — and sadness in our hearts.

You made a valiant fight Leo — your Mother did too — and your family and your good friends, the Doctors and Nurses. They did all they could for you.

But I guess the good Lord wanted you, Leo — wanted you to be up yonder with Him. And your Dad must have wanted you too — very much. I guess it was terribly lonesome for him — up there — alone.

We'll miss you, Leo. But we're glad we had you these few years and now we'll just have to share you with your Dad.

But don't you worry, Leo, about things down here. We'll try to be good to your Mother and the children and give them what comfort we can. They are so very brave and good.

We are still having the party Leo — for their sake. We think you would have wanted it so.

We'll be thinking of you!

Be happy, Leo — up there!

Sincerely,

Your friends.

Artificial Ice - For Sure

The artificial ice making machine is coming to town. The excavators are busy digging the sewer trench from the Curling rink to the mains, and the unit is expected on Monday. Weather no longer holds the whip-hand in the Curling duel.

Rose Petrak Passes Suddenly

The sudden death of seventeen year old Rose Petrak on Tuesday, January 9th, came as a surprise and a shock to the community. Monday morning she felt a little sick and did not go to school and at 4 o'clock the next morning she was taken to the local hospital where she passed away at 7 a.m. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Petrak, two sisters, Agnes and Ruth, and one brother, Donald. Another brother, Jerry, was killed in France while serving in the Canadian Army.

For details of the funeral held today, Thursday, January 11th, see next week's paper.

A MESSAGE FOR YOU

In last week's paper we said that we were going to print the new phone numbers this week but because of a copyright difficulty we are unable to do so at this time. Permission has been requested and if it is granted in time the list will appear in our next issue.

Just Penning Thanks

(Margaret Hussar)

We are well into the new year. Life has settled into its deep, comfortable rut again, shaken out only long enough every now and then to look with bewilderment on the muddled world.

We students are settled back on our apines, oblivious to the teacher's words, recalling only the wonderful holidays. I would like to portray life as it bounces around in the R. H. S. Here is an all too typical day.

The day begins with a frantic rush to discard boots, coats and scarves. All the girls run into the rest room to beautify themselves, what for, I don't know. Then the first bell rings. There is a general mad scramble seen by the outsider only at the stampede on the first of July. Books are collected, students are tripped, and finally they find their desks long enough to be marked present. The second bell rings. This is the signal for everyone to dash into the hall for that last strengthening drink (of water) before classes begin. From here on I can only give the experiences of a grade 12 student, one of those unaccountables who is taking Grade 12 matriculation in one year.

The Physics room is the first step of the invasion. If there is an experiment, everyone is happy, if not, the students sit down and try to concentrate. Next period finds us in Social Studies 3, trying to figure out how the Panzer Divisions flew over Ireland to begin the Battle of Britain in Phase 6. Confusing.

Now we have a five minute interlude which is called recess. I dare not attempt a description. Then comes Algebra 2 which gives everyone involved, a headache, including the teacher who gets seven. (He says we are all head-aches.) Now we commence la classe francaise. This is usually turned into anything but a French class.

With a sigh of relief, we hear the last morning bell. The school empties and the noises are stilled.

At 1:30 the whole procedure begins all over again. First class is English 8, general snooze period, after which comes Trig., that headache again. Now unbelievable of unbelievables, we have a study! This is generally used to study in—study the latest gossip. Lastly, thank goodness, is chemistry. At four o'clock the factory whistle blows. At five minutes after four we begin to collect our books. At ten minutes after four the school day ends with the ringing of the last bell.

Capacity Crowd Attend Missionary Gathering

The home of D. A. Bennett was filled almost to capacity on Monday night when the Returned Missionary Club took over to hold their monthly meeting.

After a few matters of business were discussed the time was turned over to Bill Bowden who conducted the program. First of all the newly appointed missionaries were given a taste of missionary work when they were quite unexpectedly called to tell where they were going, when and how they felt about filling a mission, which was followed by several numbers from the Missionary Quartet of Cardston, Bob and Dick Low, Gordon Olsen and Leo Davidson. Then we had the privilege of having with us Hermine Czep from Austria, who told in her happy way her experiences in coming to America and expressed her gratitude in being able to come here. Pres. L. L. Palmer, the guest speaker of the evening, spent the remainder of the time relating missionary experiences of his own and of his father's, and in giving timely advice to the new missionaries who were just leaving for their fields of labor.

A tasty lunch was served by the hosts and hostess Bob Bennett and Mrs. and Mrs. Bill Bowden, and everyone expressed their appreciation for the enjoyable time they had together.

Mr. and Mrs. Evan Jensen, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Rolfsen motored to Calgary Saturday to visit Wayne and Kay in the Junior Red Cross Hospital.

Stake Drama Group To Present "The Vigil"

The Taylor Stake MIA have started rehearsals for their Three Act Drama "The Vigil" to be staged late in February. This is a high Royalty play and is highly rated among stage critics.

The cast of 23 characters have been carefully chosen and are enthusiastic about the play. This promises to be one of the best productions the MIA have produced for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Brandley were hosts to about 16 guests Friday evening, with everyone having a wonderful time playing various games. A delicious lunch brought the enjoyable evening to a close.

Capitol Theatre News

She is the most fabulous girl in the world. That is what they say about "Cinderella". It is an ageless story for all ages, and now that famous genius Walt Disney has brought it to the screen in all its magic. It will put a smile in your heart and laughter in your dreams. The Capitol Theatre management is both proud and honored to play this masterpiece, and it opens a three day engagement at the Capitol Theatre starting Mon. January 15th. Owing to the popularity of this Magical Musical there will be two matinees: Monday and Wednesday at 4:15. The evening performances will start at 8:15 p.m. Regular prices will prevail, but at the matinees the evening prices will be in effect 15¢ for children, 30¢ for students and 40¢ for adults.

Be sure and see this grand show which contains everything. Comedy, suspense, romance and spectacle.

One of Warner's most popular film drama's is playing next week-end with Lon McCallister and Shirley Temple in the leading roles. It is the "Story of Seabiscuit" and this is in blazing technicolor.

It won't be long for Bing's newest show "Mr. Music". Cheaper By The Dozen starts Friday February 2nd.

Two Christmases

By crossing the international date-line you can have two Christmases. This was the experience of the nephew of Mrs. Fanny Litchfield, James Coombs of Salt Lake City, when he was invalided home after being wounded at Kimpo airdrome in Korea on December 11th. Medical Corpsman Coombs is one of a family of eight boys, seven of whom are in the military services of the U. S., and is the son of Mrs. Louise Coombs and the late Wendell Coombs formerly of Cardston, who was Mrs. Litchfield's brother.

John Horvath is in Calgary this week to have a medical check-up at the Associate Clinic.

Serving one of Canada's richest irrigated mixed farming districts.

"You can please some of the people, some of the time but you can't please all of the people all of the time." Right now we are wondering if we are pleasing any of you people any of the time.

Since starting our paper about nine months ago we have had a few — a very few — people tell us that we had a nice paper. Boy! That really made us feel good. But in all the time that we have been here we have yet to have a person come and tell us that they were very unhappy about the "Recorder" starting up again.

No, we haven't had the blindest direct but there seems to be a some people who think we should be out, all by our lonesome, on the prairie singing to the coyotes rather than in this easy to fill position of editor of a small weekly "rag".

Right now we would like to make one point clear — very clear! We are not afraid of good, honest criticism and we will not be offended if any of you write in or bring in your opinions of our work or writings, or for that matter, your opinions on anything. As long as they are sensible and not the work of some "rattle-brain" who thinks he knows all there is to know about everything, we will be pleased to try to comply with any and all of your suggestions.

You may be asking yourself about now — "What brought this on?" Well I'll tell you.

In last week's paper we had a write-up about the Magrath-Raymond basketball game. In one paragraph of this article we stated that we thought that the Rockets had a stronger team than the Jacks. For some reason this has roused the ire of untold numbers of loyal fans of the local team. We have heard — by way of rumor — that we were about to be scalped, have our throats cut and that some of our readers were about to cancel their subscriptions. Now we would like to know the reason! Just because I come from Magrath is no reason for me to "pull" for that team, after all, I left there over eight years ago. I am not a basketball critic but my honest (and unbiased) opinion is that right now the Rockets are stronger — and I'm not alone in that opinion. There are some people who were born and raised here that think likewise. In the article we were not belittling the Jacks because they only won by 7 points — we just said that if they had been as much better than the Rockets as some Raymondites think the score would have gone skyrocketing. (As a matter of record we are both pulling for the Raymond Union Jacks).

There are about two billion people in the world and so there are as many opinions — maybe some of them are the same but nevertheless each person has the right to form and express his own opinion — in our country at least. The "Raymond Recorder" is sent out to you each week because you have signified your desire to have us do so. We are firmly convinced that if everything printed in our paper agreed precisely with you and your own ideas we would lose a subscriber. Please don't get the idea that we are trying to start a battle or smoldering feud with anyone because very definitely we are not. We can only put the things in our paper that we have — and if our opinions are not the same as yours let's not fight over it but present both sides to the public.

To do this we are prepared to reserve space for any "Letter to the Editor" you care to send or bring in. (Signed of course) Here again we would appreciate an adult out-look.

A person can gain experience but not knowledge by himself. We sincerely ask that you help us gain knowledge by giving us the benefit of your opinions. We like Raymond and we want you to like us and our paper because we both intend to be here for a long time but if we can't give you the kind of paper you want we are looking for a man with lots of money and a desire to buy a printing shop.

Yours for a bigger and better Raymond.

Happiness For Your Child

"A Happy New Year!" we wished our friends on New Year's Day. If we had one request that we, as parents could have granted for our children for 1951 it would be that they should be happy. Sometimes we forget how vital a part our ideas and our ideals play in making this dream come true. To a great degree, all through life, we create or fail to create our own happiness.

Parents who do all they can from day to day to train their children in sound health habits are laying one of the foundations for happiness. Well balanced meals, comfortable clothes and play out of doors, all these contribute to a child's well being. Inoculation against disease, semi-annual visits to a dentist, and a yearly examination by a doctor are other important safeguards against sickness.

The excitement, the fun and special treats which mark the holiday season may have been more tiring to children than adults suspect. "I don't know what is the matter with my child! He is so cross and unreasonable!" many a mother complains. "Usually he is quite co-operative and has such a sunny disposition." The child is likely suffering from fatigue. It is not just a reaction from too much celebrating but weariness which makes him feel "out of sorts." As soon as he catches up on his rest, he will again be a happy youngster.

Be sure your child's schedule allows for sufficient rest. Many a mother, as soon as she finds her child is no longer going fast asleep in the afternoon, stops tucking him into bed in the day time. This is a mistake for the preschool child. Even if the youngster does not sleep, but only lies quietly talking to himself or to a doll or looking at a picture book, this little period of time by himself is of value. He is learning to be happy in his own company as well as resting his body.

A child must also learn how to get along with other people, especially those in his own age group. Parents, who have their child's happiness at heart, must be willing to welcome their friends into their home. Other youngsters do add to the noise and untidiness and they may track in mud on their shoes. But a child discovers the joy of companionship by having opportunities to be with other little friends.

Every father and mother must keep the goal of preparing a child for adult life in mind. Parents want their children to be happy from day to day. But they are also hoping that their child will grow into a useful citizen, finding joy in his work and happiness in his leisure time.

Encouraging a child to find quiet satisfaction in tasks well done is one way a parent builds for the child's future happiness. Another way is by helping a boy or girl discover creative hobbies. Experts warn us that it is this inability to use free time well which adds greatly to the lack of mental health on the part of many adults.

Handcraft, nature lore, photography reading, music, painting, — there are so many doors which open a whole new world to those who participate in these rewarding activities. Children can learn at an early age to experience satisfaction in making their own good things.

They are likely to do this if their parents are the kind of people who are not wholly dependent on spectator-amusements. Parents who are happy and well adjusted people, by their attitude to their work and their leisure, point out the path of happiness to their children far more effectively than by giving them good advice.

Thoreau spoke truly when he said "Man is the artificer of his own happiness."

Government

Business Is Your Business

Our way of life leads us to believe that some measure of comfort, security and contentment is a natural right, whether we are employable or not, whether we are approaching the end of a useful life, whether an orphan, widow or blind.

Your Department of Welfare through the branches outlined below, is constantly trying to improve the services and benefits rendered, to achieve the best possible social democracy.

OLD AGE PENSIONS: First introduced in 1929, the maximum old age pension now payable in Alberta under dominion-provincial agreement is $40. In addition, the province makes a supplementary allowance of $10 per month to all pensioners of Alberta residing in the three western provinces and provides hospital, medical, dental and optical services free to all pensioners and dependents. Pensions are paid to the blind at 21 years of age.

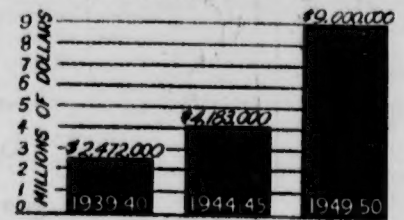

MOTHERS' ALLOWANCES: Aid is provided by this Branch to needy widows, wives of persons committed to a mental hospital, and to women who have been deserted; who have children under the age of 16 years, or under the age of 18 years if attending school and making satisfactory progress. Hospitalization and treatment services for all recipients and dependents are provided by the province free.

CHILD WELFARE: All children who become wards of the Government by Court Order, or by Agreement or Indenture, come under the control of the Child Welfare Commission. It is the policy of the Commission to have such children placed as soon as possible in approved foster homes, where they may have the advantages of being brought up as members of a family group, thereby giving them the opportunity of later becoming permanent members of the family through legal adoption.

PUBLIC ASSISTANCE: The council of every municipality is authorized to make provision for the maintenance or partial maintenance of its indigent residents and for their care and treatment when sick.

OLD AGE PENSIONS:

Pensioners' Hospitalization	$1,033,000
Mothers' Allowance	804,000

A Nice New Years Present

The day before New Year's G. N. Wells, local L. H. dealer, had the not often experienced thrill of hearing his mother's voice for the first time in twenty-two years. Since Mr. Wells came to Canada from England the first time, he has spent about three months in the old country but the last time he heard his mother's voice was over to decades ago. His attempt last year to talk to relatives in England during the festive season resulted in failure due to poor connections. His brother could hear him but there was no reception on this side.

This year Mr. Wells made arrangements about a week in advance and after a few hours delay on the 31st of December he got through to Newcastle, Northumberland, England to hear his 76 year-old mother whose voice was clear and strong. Mrs. Wells said that her son sounded "awfully Canadian". G. N. was also able to talk with his sister for just a moment before the operator broke in to say "Sorry Mr. Wells, your four minutes are up".

The trans-Canada and trans-Atlantic phone call cost between three and four dollars a minute.

Mrs. Willard Paxman and Virginia were co-hostesses at a Trousseau Tea given in honor of Bonnie Paxman at the home of Mrs. Irene Cooper on Wednesday evening.

Bonnie displayed her lovely trousseau and hope chest, and the guests, close friends of the bride-elect, joined in making up a Bride's Book that caused many a good laugh.

A delicious lunch was served by Virginia and Hazel Paxman.

The Psychology Club met at the going presidency. Mrs. Gibb's assistant Mrs. J. O. Hicken Wednesday evening. Mary Rasmussen very capably presented the lesson on the "Five Year Old Child" after which Dorothy Dahl read the highly amusing and informative, "A Handy Guide to Grownups" written by an eleven year old child who thinks "It is not impossible for youngsters to get along with grownups provided they (the youngsters) play their cards right."

Mrs. Hicken suggested that it would be interesting for each member to write down what she expects to happen to her and her family and home between now and 1953 when they again meet at her home. These 'forecasts' are to be kept, and in two years will be opened to see how accurate they were. Although many and varied events were expected to happen, no marriages were forecast.

The new President, Mrs. Orla Gibb was in charge of this meeting, and a vote of thanks was tendered the outgoing president.

A Thought For The Day

The galleries are full of critics. They play no ball. They fight no fights. They make no mistakes because they attempt nothing. . . Down in the arena are the doers. They make many mistakes because they attempt many things. Ford forgot to put a reverse gear in his first automobile. Edison once spent over two million dollars on an invention which proved of little value. The man who makes no mistakes lacks boldness and the spirit of adventure. He is the one who never tries anything new. He is a brake on the wheels of progress.

ready for their call—as ready as was the young man who answered his. Spirits are sent to this world for how long a stay no man can tell. We are but loaned to this world to prepare for the next. Bishop Hicken read from the Scriptures as well as a timely poem, and told of his interest in Leo at school and the many talks he had with the young boy in his office where he became close to him. He said he knew of the boy's hopes for the future but he did not think that Leo's life's work was unfinished, he felt his work was in a better place and while all would miss the young lad, the will of God must at all times be accepted.

Rev. Ward took as his text, "In My House are many Mansions". He read words of consolation from the scriptures and spoke words of comfort to the family.

Pres. L. L. Palmer was the last speaker and he read a number of passages of scriptures showing the purpose of life and also spoke words of comfort to those who were left to carry on without the association of son and brother.

Pallbearers were Boy Scout friends dressed in their uniforms. They were Dale Christensen, Mervin Hippard, Phillip Lund, Larry Williams, Donald Adams and John Thompson.

Interment was in the family plot in the Temple Hill Cemetery.

Raymond

Canadian Culture Group Sponsor March of Dimes

The March of Dimes Campaign to raise funds for the fight against Polio will be sponsored this year in Raymond by the Canadian Culture organization. This campaign will be conducted the last week in January and your wholehearted and generous support is requested.

We thought you might be interested in reading the first-hand account of what it is like to have polio, and so we print the letter below.

To never walk again, to never run, to never play as other boys; this was a dreaded possibility that struck me just as the first snow came down.

I was twelve years old and I had never thought of anything other than being a normal boy until the doctors learned after several tests, that I had a most dreaded disease—Polio.

Thanks to my Parents, Medical Science and the Sister Kenny treatment which I received in the Junior Red Cross Hospital in Calgary, I can now participate in the sports of youth. The future looks bright for me because doctors tell me that thanks to medical science and the will of God, I will live a normal life.

Perhaps you would like to know a little about the sister Kenny Treatment which I was under for five months. They covered all my body in hot packs. I was in them for about two months and during this time I had to do exercises everyday except Sunday. The exercises were to move every muscle to keep them from shrinking up. Some of the exercises were: to not bend your knees while putting forehead on knees and hands past your feet; lay on your stomach and bend the knee; put your hands behind your back together and pull shoulders together.

After those two months I was allowed out of the packs but not to walk. You are always supposed to be on your back but after another month I was allowed to get up and learn to walk again.

One of the greatest men of all time, Franklin D. Roosevelt was not as fortunate as I as he never walked without an aid, but he did more for other victims than any other single individual. It was he who inaugurated the March of Dimes which gives everyone the privilege of helping the less fortunate.

While in the hospital I had the good fortune to meet the late President Roosevelt's wife.

As one who knows the good that can be done, I ask you citizens of Raymond, please March your Dimes with the rest of the Canadian dimes during the last week in January.

Sincerely,

Calvin Salmon

The Fourth Ward Sunday School Superintendency and their wives, and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Galbraith representing the Bishopric, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira McBride Thursday evening with Bill Fairbanks the Guest of Honor. Mr. Fairbanks was released from his position in the Sunday School in order that he might devote his time to the duties of a Stake missionary. He was presented with the book, "Temples of the Most High".

A delicious lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Graham left Wednesday for Detroit where they will pick up a new car and then travel on to Florida and California for Raymond Orchestra will be playing a few weeks holiday in the sun.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Greep returned to Castlegar, B. C. Monday night after having spent the holiday season with relatives here. Mrs. Alice Court accompanied them for a two week stay in Castlegar where she will also visit her daughter and son in law, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Henry.

Jean Bingham of Magrath was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Nalder on Wednesday. Jean and Ruth are sisters.

The Skilled

"Soldier-Tradesmen"

of the R.C.E.M.E.

The workshops of the Royal Canadian Electrical and Mechanical Engineers are expanding rapidly—in step with the growth of the Canadian Army Active Force. The men of the R.C.E.M.E. are doing their part to make Canada strong.

There is an urgent need for skilled tradesmen to man the workshops of this vitally important corps of "soldier-tradesmen". Skilled craftsmen are required to fill the posts of automotive mechanics, fitters, toolmakers, radar and radio technicians, instrument makers, welders, watchmakers, machinists and other key jobs.

If you qualify as a skilled tradesman, there's a place for you in the R.C.E.M.E.

You can serve now—when Canada needs you—as an expert "soldier-tradesman".

Jack Coombs of Rosemary was an overnight visitor in town at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Larsen. He was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Palmer who were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Galbraith. Mr. and Mrs. Palmer travelled as far as Great Falls with Mr. Coombs who was going on to Salt Lake. They will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Thomas.

Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Ackroyd were host to 34 guests from Magrath and Raymond at a delicious dinner consisting of ham, creamed potatoes, gravy, hot rolls and lots of other good things to eat, after which they spent a hilarious evening playing various games. They started out by making New Year's Resolutions—no, not for themselves, but for their husband (or wife, as the case may have been). I wonder how many have been broken by now? The next task was to draw a picture of "The Thing", the group with the most imagination receiving a suitable prize; and on to the next game, and the next, until the guests regrettably called the evening to an end.

A family Dinner with twenty people present was enjoyed at the home of Mrs. Emma Dahl Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Leah Jones and family of Taber were out of town guests.

A Sunday night Club met at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Harris Walker this week. Kay Rodd very capably presented the lesson taken from the book "Priesthood and Church Government" after which a very tasty lunch was served by the hostess.

Dr. and Mrs. Bingham and Mr. and Mrs. George Erickson were special guests.
